

GOOD MONEY GONE BAD

Digital Thieves and the Hijacking of the Online Ad Business

The content theft websites researched make a projected in ad revenue annually. That's a huge figure, but not nearly as big as the economic harm done to creative workers.

$227 million

Because these content theft sites rely entirely on the works of others, their profit margins range from 80% to 94%. This underscores that crime can pay when you steal other people's content.

$4.4 million

That's how much the 30 largest content theft sites that are supported exclusively by ads make annually. The largest BitTorrent portal sites top $6 million.

Even the small content theft sites can make more than $100K a year from advertising.

Premium and secondary brand advertisers are being duped — and harmed as current digital advertising practices do not protect them from appearing on offending sites...often alongside offensive ads and links to malware.

Nearly 30% of large content theft sites carry premium brand ads. 40% of the large sites studied carried legitimate secondary brand ads.

To see the full Digital Citizens report and research by MediaLink, go to www.digitalcitizensalliance.org/followtheprofit.

#FollowTheProfit

digitalcitizens
alliance